

Eirini Vasilakou

Museologist - Museum educator

Member of Kotsanas Museum of Ancient Greek Technology team since May 2021. Professional activity: guided tours for primary, elementary and secondary education, thematic experiences for visitors of different nationalities, planning, development and implementation of thematic actions and workshops for families based on the permanent collection of the Museum. In collaboration with the Ionian University she has participated in a project on the accessibility of people with disabilities in museums such as the Archaeological Museum of Kerameikos in Athens, the Solomos Museum in Corfu and the University Collections of the Ionian University. She speaks English.